

"GEE hands down innovated the hardcore/gabber sound and movement,"
- SHAVO ODADJIAN of SYSTEM OF A DOWN

"ROB GEE is a unique artist and DJ whose music will not only shake the walls and dance floor, but also mind and body,"
- RZA of WU TANG CLAN

"GEE willakers, that crazy ROB is at it again. It is like electronic cannibals on a rampage with a GEE Spot Tornado."
- EVAN SEINFELD of BIOHAZARD

"The new ROB GEE album is one of the most dusted records I've ever heard, ROB GEE continues to push the fine line of creativeness, he's a futuristic character with incredible musical ability, soundwise his music is unlike anything I've ever listen to. I look foward to a future collaboration with ROB GEE and his cru of artists." - SEN DOG of CYPRESS HILL

ROB GEE

"It is so aggressive and ahead of its time. He was the first I heard mashing hardcore gabber, breakbeat jungle, hip-hop and metal, all in one. ROB's sound was and still is a huge inspiration for me and the way I approach my electronic music when in the studio. Unorthodox, truthful, disconnected and pure, real music is full of breath and energy which is exactly what ROB fills you with when he walks into a room."

- DJ STARSCREAM
a.k.a. #0 of SLIPKNOT

"ROB GEE has always been an innovator and legend in the music scene and once again he proves why he is. Its like drinking a pot of coffee and putting your head through the wall! What could possibly be next?"

- CHRIS BEATTIE of HATEBREED

Rob GEE is famous in New York as "the hardest DJ to ever play the Limelight."

In the early 90's, GEE kept delirious audiences going - spinning at Limelight's "Future Shock" dance/techno nights and performing with his live band and spinning at the club's "Rock And Roll Church" metal/rock/industrial nights. GEE kept the crowds coming back to Limelight, just like they do in Australia, Japan, Italy, Spain, Scotland, Austria, Hungary and Belgium to name a few. GEE is a recurring headliner at Sensation, Thunderdome, Mysteryland, and Love Parade, where GEE played before one million people.

GEE has shared the stage with everyone from HATEBREED and BIOHAZARD to CRYSTAL METHOD, BUSTA RHYMES, KURTIS BLOW, and AFRIKA BAMBAATAA. His GEEness has also has spun at many SLIPKNOT and KORN after parties with his good friend, DJ STARSCREAM a.k.a. #0 of SLIPKNOT.

Rob GEE is the only artist of his kind to collaborate and create with members of respected rock, metal, hardcore and hip-hop acts such as SLIPKNOT, HATEBREED, BIOHAZARD, WU-TANG CLAN, CYPRESS HILL, and SYSTEM OF A DOWN, (among others), creating a unification of electronic, metal, hardcore, hip-hop, and any other style for that matter known as gabber music. GEE is writing history launching gabber onto the world scene.

Known as THE GABBER GURU, GEE gained worldwide fame after the release of "Ecstasy You Got What I Need." The song went gold and was the #1 video on The Box for 13 straight weeks. At the same time, "Ecstasy" rose to #9 on the pop charts and earned him Best Artist, Best Producer and Best Song of the year at The Thunder Awards in Holland.

GEE has put out over 50 releases in the past decade on various labels including ADAM (Aggressive Dance And Music) Worldwide, his self-owned label. The GEE Man has recently enjoyed radio and video success with the self-titled "ROB GEE," the first part of the three-part album. The second part, "SAYS," hits the streets in May '08 on ADAM WorldWide/ Rock Ridge Music, with the third and final part due in November '08.

- GEE's Rob GEE is currently gearing up for a summer world tour. The band, who recorded the albums with him and perform with him live, includes: Rob GEE on lead vocals, Einstein (electronic percussion), Mike Puch (bass, vocals), Vin Man (guitar, vocals), T-Bert (drums), Nicky Twist (turntables, vocals).

- In addition to his work on the small screen with Chris Scorsese, GEE is currently writing and producing "The League of Just Us" for television.

- GEE is also expanding his empire and bringing Sensation (The World's Leading Dance Event) to the Western Hemisphere starting first with New York City.

- Rob GEE is one of the key celebrity faces of the urSESSION family founded by his dear friend, Shavo Odadjian of SYSTEM OF A DOWN. urSESSION.com is the free premier site which is a social and professional networking destination for music fans, independent and unsigned acts, dealmakers and celebrities, as well as established bands.
